REPORTS ON CARLISLE'S PLAN.

Flaws Picked in the Bill by the Minority of the Committee. Washington, Dec. 18.—The majority report favorable to Secretary Carlisle's plan was yesterday presented to the house by Chairman Springer with the recommendation that the bill pass. The committee, after explaining the results of a possible crisis in which all national banks would fail and showing how there would be abundant resources for the redemption of the circulating notes, says:

"Your committee are of the opinion that if the proposed bill should become a law it would provide for a safe, sufficient and flexible currency. Such flexibility as is required by the conditions of trade and commerce is absolutely wanting. As the outstanding notes will be taxed one half of 1 per cent per annum, and as the banks taking them wili be deprived of 30 per cent thereof, in legal tender notes, there will be an inducement to retire the cir culation when it is not needed and at the same time an inducement to take out circulation when business conditions require it."

The minority members severely criticise the Carlisle bill. They say in

"It is the opinion of a number of the most clear headed and eminent financiers in the country that if the Carlisle bill were enacted into a law within twenty days that it would precipitate a panic far more severe than that of 1893, as it would compel the forced sale upon the market of nearly $200,000,000 of United States bonds within six months. "Whatever legislation is had with reference to the finances of the country or banking in its effects upon national banks should be permissive and not mandatory as to national banks while their present charters continue. The provisions of exemptions as to state banks, notwithstanding the many restrictions imposed upon them, would drive every existing national bank not see with what fairness the governthat desires to take out circulating ment could be asked to assist a private notes into the state bank system if the | corporation in doing the work. Carlisle, or of those who now enthusiastically support the Carlisle bill or will vote for it in congress, to force the national banks to operate under state charters, and yet such would be the inevitable effect of the bill.

"The passage of the Carlisle bill will aggravate rather than relieve the perplexities of the financial situation and especially that of the United States treasury. The United States legal tender notes withdrawn from circulation, did all existing national banks take out all their circulation permitted under the bill, would only be $151,000,-000, still leaving $350,000 to vex the treasury. This would not afford any substantial relief to the constant drain of gold from the treasury. It would make still more conspicuous and thus more urgent the demand for gold upon the treasury, and the notes issued under the bill would make confusion worse confounded in the currency by adding from one to forty-five more kinds of money to those already exist-

The amendment provides that before any provisions of the act are enforced the President is to appoint three competent engineers, two of them from the engineer corps and one from civil life, not interested in the company, to make a survey and estimate of the expense of the construction of the canal on the route proposed. Mr. Turpie, though in favor of the construction of the canal, could gued that there was but one precedent bill, and that was in the case of the Pacific railroads, and he was not in senate went into executive session, and

Opposition to Pooling Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 .- "The pooling bill will not go through the senate without the severest scrutiny. It is too radical a departure from our previous legislation in regard to railroads to permit its being rushed through without ample time for consideration. The bill can not get a place until after the holidays in any event and if the opposition takes very definite form it will not pass at all," said Senator Palmer yesterday. There is a nucleus of opposition to the bill in the senate which is liable to grow day by day and Senator Palmer's frank declaration that the pooling bill is too radical a departure from previous railroad legislation to pass unchallenged is the keynote to the situation. No one expects the measure to be taken up for thirty days or so, and in this time the opposition may concentrate its forces sufficiently to prevent a vote, a matter which can easily be arranged.

DENVER, Dec. 18-[Special]-John Burns and Holmes, the English labor leaders, have fallen cut. Yesterday's sessions was a peppery one. The first ousiness was to determine the future location of the headquarters of the federation. On Saturday the cities of Indianapolis, Detroit, Washington, Brooklyn and Louisville had been placed in nomination. Indianapolis and Washington were the only contestants yesterday. The vote resulted: Indianapolis, 1,200; Washington, 920. A resolution to make Indianapolis the location for three years was amended to make it five years and referred to the committee on laws. The election of officers was then taken up. There was no excitement regarding the election of president. It was evident at the start that the question had been settled so far as the individual members were concerned. Mr. Gompers was nominated by Mr. Eickhoff, the nomination was seconded by Messrs. Cohen, Daily and McGraith. McBride was nominated by Mr. Penna and seconded by Mr. Allen. The vote proceeded without incident except that several delegates anounce that they would vote against Gompers by instructions from their various unions. W. E. Klapetzky voted for McBride but asked to be allowed to withdraw his vote. He said he had been instructed to vote against Gompers and could not conscientiously vote for McBride. Permission was granted. The result of the vote was: McBride, 1,162; Gompers, 927. President Gompers moved to make the vote unanimous for McBride, but objection was made. Mr. Gompers at once wrote and dispatched the following message to

Mr. McBride, who is ill at his home. 'TO JOHN MCBRIDE, COLUMBUS, OHIO Congratulations; elected president Federation. None will be more loyal than I to aid and make your admisistration successful.

"SAMUEL GOMPERS." For first vice president, Mr. T. J. Morgan of Chicago and Mr. McGuire of Philadelphia were nominated, the vote was 1,865 for McGuire, 226 for Mr. Morgan. The election made unanimous. James Duncan of Baltimore was made second vice-president by a vote of 2,185 to 60 for Charles Richtold of St. Louis, Knights of Labor. For third vicepresident James Brettell and Roady Kenehan of Denver were nominated. The result was, Brettell, Kenehan, 1,714. Lloyd of Boston, W. D. Mahon of the street car employes and T. J. Elderkin of the Seamen's union were The family arrived in Newark Saturnominated for fourth vice-president. Quite a number of Mahon votes were city, but could find no trace of his changed to Elderkin after the first roll call. The result was: Elderkin, 752; Mahon, 708; Lloyd, 773-no election. Mr. Lloyd withdrew his name and another vote was ordered, which resulted in the election of Mr. Elderkin. The other two officers elected were: Secretary, A. McCraith, Boston; treasurer, John B. Lennon.

When the election was concluded Mr. Gompers took the floor and announced his satisfaction upon being released from the responsibility of the presidency of the federation. He regretted no act of his official career. He renewed his allegiance to the federation. For the place of next meeting of the dederation New York was selected. Delegate Lennon moved that three fraternal delegates be sent to the British Trades congress to be held at Cardiff, Wales. It was carried and Samuel Gompers, P. J. McGuire, and

P. H. Penna were selected. At the afternoon session a telegram from the president-elect was read.

The special committee appointed to draft resolutions on the McGuire seamen's rights bill, now before congress, reported resolutions providing that a committee of three, one of whom should be a member of the Seamen's union, to go to Washington as a lobby. The committee on resolutions continued its report. A resolution was agreed to appropriating $250 to reimburse the metal workers of Illinois for the expense of carrying a suit to the Supreme court to prevent contract convict labor.

The secretary of justice then proceeded, amid socialistic interruptions, to refer to several inflammatory pamphlets which have recently appeared. The interruptions of the socialists were so frequent and of such an exciting nature that the president of the reichstag, Herr von Levetzow, was compelled several times to call them to order. Dr. Nieberling produced a revolutionary broadsheet which, he asserted, was intended for circulation in the barracks of the soldiers. He added: "The aim of our opponents can only be obtained by overthrowing all order, and I trust the majority of the house will support the stimulants given by another for the government against this enemy, which purpose of provoking the deed. COUNCIL ACCEPT THE COMPA-NY'S STIPULATION.

Testimony Will Be Taken In Regard to the Cost of the Plant and Submitted to the Council-Agreement Does Not Jeopardize the City's Interest.

The law suit between the city of Janesville and the Janesville Water Company has been suspended for the present and testimony will be taken as to the cost of the works and submitted to the council with the possibility of a settlement without further litiga-

This state of affairs is the result of the council's action last night when the stipulation made by the water company was adopted. Mayor Thoroughgood read a statement in which he said, in substance, that the action begun, had, up to the present time received endorsement of the tax payers which could not be ignored. This change, coming so suddenly he said, and from the attorneys of both the city and the water company, which corporation heretofore had not shown a disposition to be fair, made him feel skeptical as to the reason for it and he could not understand what it

"True." he continued, "there are a great many features contained in the paper Mr. Jeffris will read to you, but from what we already know, the strongest personal efforts have been made to some of the members of the council which came within one of succeeding to block your action before. Why was this? In whose interest was it; or why was the effort made? We may presume not for the city's interest. Until this case was brought to where it now is we did not know anything about the inside workings of the water company, and perhaps the water company thought we had no right to know. We do know however, we did not get a fair, honest answer when we demanded a statement, which we were entitled to according to agreement in the charter. I am not inclined to hold out against your wishes, but I am personally against any action to change the present conditions."

Continuing he said that it seemed to him that if the matter was allowed to rest, it left things just the way they were, for a time at least. The

He said that the stipulation would not jeopardize any interests of the city, and would not excuse any wrong that the company may have done and Mr. Jeffris further stated that if it would jeopardize the city he wanted nothing more to do with it.

"It simply calls for the taking of the testimony by stipulation, or by agreement of the attorneys on both sides," he explained. "I think we are in possession of testimony to show exactly what the works cost and this same testimony, some of which must be taken in Boston, where the company's books are, can be used in the trial if it is taken into court. All of the testimony will be public and will submitted to the council for their approval before any action is taken."

Could Do No Harm.

"The stipulation cannot harm the city," continued Mr. Jeffris, "and it may be an advantage, but that is not necessary to explain at this time. There is a suspicion among some people that the water cempany has something to gain. We both think we have something to gain."

City Attorney McElroy said he thought that a conclusion could be amicably reached as well in this manner as by litigation. It was easier and less expensive and he favored the stipulation.

Mr. Hyzer said the stipulation had grown out of a disposition to be fair with the city. The present officers of cempany had no of knowing the cost by the books which they had no part in making. He thought the city was entitled to know the exact cost of the works. The only thing he ever objected to was the receiver business. As long as that lasted there could not be a friendly feeling, but when that was dropped and it became a plain business proposition. The stipulation The temperance lecture given by Mr was referred to the fire and water Titus of Beloit, Friday night was a committee who reported favorably and moved thas the proposition be accepted and that the city attorney sign the same in behalf of the city and

The residence of John Pearson was entered by burglars Friday evening while they were at the temperance lecture, and a watch and two finger rings are missed in consequence.

Mr. Boothroyd's house was broken into while they were away, and a small amount of money was taken. No clues to the thieves have been found; but they will not find much wealth in this tobacco region, as they seem to be finding out, for in all places they have entered thus far a few dollars' worth is all they have received.

EVANSVILLE PIONEER IS DEAD.

Van Patten, Who Came to Rock County in '49, Called.

EVANSVILLE, Dec. 18-Simon Van Patten died at his residence on Liberty street Sunday, December 16, at 8 s. m. Mr. Van Patten was born in Schoharie county, New York, October 25, 1807, and was married in Brownsville, New York, October 14, 1830, to Miss Lucy Bates, who still lives at the advanced age of 81 years.

In 1849 Mr. and Mrs. Van Patten removed to Porter, in which township they resided until 1890, when they removed to Evansville. Four sons were born them, Oliver, Fred S., of Afton, Iowa; Artemas, of Perry, Iowa; Everett, of Albany, Wis,; and J. B., of Evansville, Wis. The last named three are still living.

Mr. Van Patten had been a devoted christian for many years, originally belonging to the Methodist church, but about twenty years ago he was transferred to the Congregational church, of which he has since been a member. Erect and quick in his movements as many a man forty years younger, with his mental qualities unimpaired by age, he was a fitting type, phy ically, mentally and morally of a christian gentleman.

BEEN ARRANGED.

Gifts Made to the Poor Instead of to the Sunday School Children a Feature of Two Celebrations-Smith's Orchestra At St. Patrick's-Yuletide Programmes.

Plans for Christmas have been considered in Janesville Sunday schools. There will be a general observance of the day, and the presentation of gifts to the poor will be an important feature. At the Congregational church this departure was made several years ago, and has been followed steadily. There will be a big tree in the Congregational Sunday school room Christmas, Santa Claus will descend and nothing in the way of old-fashfoned joys will be lacking. On the tree will be souvenirs for each child in the school. These will be provided from a general fund, and will make discrimination impossible. The children will! take part in an entertainment, and will bring presents to be distributed among the poor Christmas morning. Presbyterians have adopted the same feature. Sunday morning there will be a Christmas missionary service. On Christmas eve a varied programme will be presented, in which the entire school takes part. A drill by the Boys' Brigade and a visit from Santa Claus will be features. There will be no gifts to the children, offerings by the children to the poor being substituted. Midnight Celebration at Trinity.

A midnight celebration will inaugurate the Christmas observances at Trinity. This will begin at 11:30 on Monday evening, and the second celebration will be at 10:30 Tuesday morning. A cantata in which the Sunday school children take part forms the basis for the festivities in Columbia hall Wednesday evening. Christmas eve will be marked at Christ church by appropriate services. There will be two trees, from which presents will be distributed. The music on Christmas Sunday will be especially fine in Trinity and Christ churches.

In both the Catholic churches special music is being prepared. Rehearproperty by taking down the veranda sals are now in progress at St. Mary's church under the direction of James H. Burus. Smith's orchestra will supplement the choir at St. Patrick's Such at least is the indication to us church, and Carpenter's mass in G will by the number of inquiries and con- be sung. > Supper For the Sunday School Methodists will celebrate with hearty spirit. A Christmas supper will be served in the Court street Sunday school room Monday evening and the young people have an entertainment in hand. Rev. Dr. Halsey announced Sunday that the services next Sunday morning would be appropriate to the season, special music being given and a Christmas sermon delivered. A well-loaded Christmas tree will hold the place of honor in the First Methodist church Monday evening and a Sunday school concert will be given.

New Year's eve is the time chosen by the Baptists for their exercises. A missionary Christmas concert has been planned for next Sunday evening, although the revival services may icterfere.

Services on Christmas eve Christmas day, and New Years eve are planned by German Lutherans. The decoration of St. John's church has al ready begun.

The services on Christmas eve will be especially for the children, Christmas night Rev. Mr. Kaemflein will preach. Two big trees are to be put in place at St. Paul's church. There will be celebrations on Christmas eve and New Year's eve, besides the services on Christmas day.

Rev. Mr. Kvale of Orford, will be here to conduct the services at the Norwegian Lutheran church Christmas night. A tree is to be the central feature of the decorations.

It is said the Janesville youth commenced a vigorous campaign for the hand of Mr. Wickes' handsome daugh ter at the time of the party. Following the introduction there was a waltz, and then a talk in a nook behind the palms. Then when Mr. Ford went back to the town in the Badger state he used the mails to help him in his campaign.

And subsequent events aided him. Miss Dore gave another party, and at this Miss Ford, the young man's sister, was present. She was introduced to Miss Wickes and these two besame to be the immediate cause of her inwarm friends. Miss Fore invited Miss Wickes to visit her in Janesville, and a week aga this morning the Chicago girl and her trunks were here.

EVENING GOWNS.

Huge Sleeves, Low Cut Bodices and Flaring Skirts Remain Triumphant.

The time for the sleeveless evening gowns is past. All full dress toilets have immense sleeves as a prominent feature. They do not extend below the elbow, but is thirty miles, which he takes in perexpand laterally to such an extent that ambulating about his large parish, the butler of a fashionable family must certainly have to make an extra allowance of room between seats when he sets the table for a dinner party.

The decolletage (as there is no English noun to express the fact that a bodice is cut down around the neck, the French word is a necessity) is square, round or straight across in the lately revived old fashioned style, but it always shows more or less of the shoulders and is not confined merely to the front of the bodice. Round waists much trimmed are the rule.

Skirts are tight around the hips, fitting without a fold or wrinkle, but they expand toward the foot until the lower edge measures more than six yards around. Petticoats to wear under these evening skirts are made of taffeta in cream, straw, white or rose and trimmed with a flounce having innumerable horizontal rows of cording. The hem is lined with stiffening and also corded, which gives the petticoat the necessary stiffness and flare for holding out the dress skirt.

Silk and wool and all wool crepons are shown in lovely evening shades. There are also crapes and grenadines, the latter plain, striped and embroidered. The fancy for black evening gowns seems to have waned, although the persons to whom continue to wear them. Clear red makes an extremely pretty full dress gown for a woman who is fortunate enough to be able to stand a large mass of that color.

The evening toilet illustrated is rather original in style. It is made of nile green bengaline, with a mother of pearl change-able effect. The plain bell skirt is trimmed with lengthwise lines of pearl passementerie, terminating in choux at the foot. The round bodice is composed of vertical puffs of bengaline separated by a line of passementerie. The decolletage is bordered with a band of pearl galloon, with a chou on each side in front. The sleeves and girdle are of velvet.

FLOWER GARNITURES.

Even Fur Collars and Boas Are Decorated With Blossoms.

A Frenchwoman has said, "A woman is always pretty when she wishes to be so," and her countrywomen are thoroughly convinced of the truth of this statement. If personal attractiveness is made the chief end of life, if every thought and act has that for its aim, it is possible for even a plain woman to give the effect of beauty. Good health, an ingratiating complete. manner and incessant and thoughtful care in the matter of dress will do wonders in the way of beautification. The "science du chiffon" is avowedly of more importance to our sister of Paris than all the other sciences put together, and nature has gifted her with an instinctive apti-

This is a flower year, at least a year of the kind of flowers that grow under skillful fingers in manuthat grow under skillful fingers in manuth facturers' forcing houses, and these step-daughters of the goddess Flora adorn not only hats and bonnets, but are wreathed about evening gowns and decorate collars and bodices. door wear are seen in great variety. Most of the latter have long ends in front either of ribbon or chiffon, while the portion that surrounds the neck is composed or full choux of ribbon or thin goods, interspersed with flowers, bows or rosettes of lace. A combination of fur and flowers is the latest thing in elegant novelties. The little fur animals ween about the throat are now adorned with flowers, like a sacrificial offering. The illustration shows a cape collar of sable cut so as te lie in godets. #### YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 106 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her.

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. R. R. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

A Legal Equivalent.

After their engagement had been broken off a Michigan man sued his quondam sweetheart for the recovery of certain jewelry which she refused to return. The judge in deciding the case asked the lover if he had ever kissed his intended bride. After he had admitted that he had done so, the judge dismissed the suit, holding that kisses and caresses were a legal equivalent for presents.

in a bog in Kerry, Ireland. Its back was arched and its tail thickened, as though it met death while in the act of opening a concert.

A Gross Act of Cruelty.

Why should we be cruel to ourselves? It is a piece of senseless inhumanity, for instance, for any one of us to inflict upon his bowles and stomach the convulsive, griping, violent action of a drastic cathartic. Many people enomored of pills, powders and potions are continually doing this. They are the only "keeping up the agony," perpetuating the disturbance by this foolish course. Why don't they take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and get horoughly and promptly set right? This supreme laxative never gripes, never produces violent effects of any sort But it is very effective and brings about permanet results. For liver complaint, dyspepsia, nervousness, lack of vi-tality, rheumatic and kidney complaints, it is eminently serviceable. In old age and to accel-erate convalescence it is strongly to be com-mended. Use it for malaria.

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while others can not. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay.
